

2018 IEEE CIS Summer/ Winter School on Deep Learning and Computational Intelligence

December 5th - 7th, 2018
Indian Institute of Technology Kanpur, India-208016

Main idea of 2018 IEEE CIS Summer/ Winter School on Deep Learning and Computational Intelligence is to raise awareness and applicability about Deep Learning (DL) with Computational Intelligence (CI) among the research communities. Traditional learning and computing methods deal with vast range of applications related to reasoning, decision making etc. Advantages of DL and CI over existing deep learning algorithms: One has automatic structure optimization ability; the other is multi-objective ability. This school will bring people working in CI and DL domain to a common platform for generating innovative ideas. It will also assess the state of the art on what new directions lie open for research in area of CI and DL. In this way, the school will generate exciting new communication across various CI and machine learning disciplines.
