

Research areas of Braj Bhushan

Research areas: Cognitive Neuropsychology, Cognitive Factors in Design, Trauma Psychology

I am interested in exploring cognitive processes underlying human behaviour. My research focus is applied dimensions of human behaviour making an amalgamation of bio-behavioural and cognitive-emotional regulation. I am also interested in the study of posttraumatic stress and posttraumatic growth, especially in children and adolescents, and how cognitive-emotional regulation affects the outcomes of a traumatic experience.

Name: Braj Bhushan

E-mail: brajb@iitk.ac.in