About RSD

Research Scholar Day (RSD) is a biennial colloquium organised by the Department of Materials Science and Engineering to showcase the research work of its scholars. The event features invited technical talks, along with oral and poster presentations, and provides a platform for idea exchange, collaboration, and meaningful interactions among researchers across disciplines.

Research Areas

- Additive Manufacturing
- Artificial intelligence &
- Machine learning
- Biomaterials
- Casting and Solidification
- Ceramics and Composites
- Characterization of Materials
- Coatings and Surface Engineering
- Corrosion Science and Engineering
- Computational Materials Science
- Energy Materials
- Functional Materials
- High Entropy Alloys
- Iron and Steelmaking
- Materials Forming and Joining
- Metal Extraction and Processing
- Mechanical Behaviour of Materials
- Modelling and Simulation
- Nanomaterials
- Physical Metallurgy
- Process Metallurgy
- Powder Metallurgy
- Recycling of Materials
- Stealth Materials and Technology
- Sustainable Materials Manufacturing

Organising Committee

- Prof. Kantesh Balani, HOD and Patron
- Prof. Rahul Sarkar, Co-convener
- Prof. Heena Khanchandani, Co-convener
- Prof. Arunabh Meshram, Member
- Prof. Srinu Gangolu, Advisor
- Prof. Niraj Chawake, Advisor

Student Volunteers

- Devanshu Saini
- Kiran Choudhary
- Rahul Singh
- Khadija Naz Safwi
- Rakesh Maurya
- Pritam Ghosh
- Akash Sau
- Soumya Banerjee
- Shahid Nabi
- Saatvik Singh
- Deep Biswas
- Raj Kamal Yadav
- Praveen Kumar
- Ravi Kumar Babu
- Souradeep Bakshi
- Saurabh Agarwal
- Vikas Mani Pandey
- Krishanu Gayen
- Rudra Sharma
- Neha Maurya

Sponsorship

Organizers of the colloquium solicit financial support from domestic and foreign industries for organising various events. Potential sponsors are requested to contact the conference organisers directly.
